Close the spend control gap

Connect SAP Concur to Soldo to control spend before payment with real-time visibility

Control spend as it happens

You've already got a strong setup. SAP Concur delivers automation and control, but with traditional cards, control often comes after the spend. By integrating with SAP Concur, Soldo applies your spend policy directly at the point of payment, ensuring every transaction is controlled from the start.

Connected payments and spend control

Powered by API integration, Soldo adds a payment control layer to SAP Concur. Approved spend flows directly to company cards with limits and permissions, giving finance real-time visibility and automatic reconciliation - while removing employee out-of-pocket spend.

“We manage cards in Soldo and account for transactions in SAP Concur, meaning all our T&E is in one system. The integration has been a game-changer for us.”

Tim Ward, Group Payroll Manager, Audley Travel

Seamless integration

Instant integration with API, with SAP Concur and Soldo, spend policy comes together with seamless payments to deliver confident, proactive spend control.

Proactive spend control

Soldo equips employees with ready-to-use corporate cards, with funds aligned to approved requests from SAP Concur. Granular spend limits and permissions ensure every payment is controlled from the start, reducing out-of-policy spend.

Embedded approvals

Approval workflows remain in SAP Concur, ensuring all spend is authorised before funds are released. Key information flows seamlessly into Soldo to enable controlled, trip-based spending, reducing the need for manual reallocation.

Connected end-to-end

From request to reconciliation, every step is connected. Transactions are automatically synced, matched, and prepared for review and ERP export – reducing manual effort and enabling more accurate reconciliation.

Complete visibility

Finance gets a clear, consistent view across the business, with payments and accounting seamlessly integrated. The result is streamlined expense management from start to finish – without claims or reimbursements.
